Host Council Rock North finished third behind champion Germantown Academy and runner-up St. Augustine Prep at the inaugural Jack King Callender, Jr. Memorial Rockyard Duals.

Germantown Academy, from Fort Washington, PA, is always tough. Coach Steven Hill, an ex-Council Rock wrestler himself, consistently put a highly competitive team together. St. Augustine Prep, the all boys' school from Richland, New Jersey, was an unknown coming into the tournament. They turned out to be one tough bunch of kids only losing to Germantown.

In CRN match with St. Augustine, the score ended in a 33 – 33 tie. North lost by the eight criteria tiebreaker to St. Augustine who scored the first points in eight bouts to North's six bouts. That dropped the Indian's record to 3 – 2 to take the third place spot. The highlight of the day came in the final round when CRN went up against rival Pennsbury, beating the Falcons 39 - 26. This one won't count as a league match that will be settled on January 18th. This one was a sign of what's to come. Under new head coach Phil Kealy the Falcons are taking on a new attitude. With a little more tuning the boys from Pennsbury will surely be up for the return match later this month.

The Indians had a good tournament with many in the lineup coming up with good results on the day.

132 Johnny Dutrow went 5 – 0 and took home the “Most pins in the Shortest Time” trophy.

Others that finished well;

138 Tyler Kelly	4 – 1
195 Marston Bell	4 – 1
220 Tyler Callender	4 – 1
120 Micah Haynes	3 – 2
145 Alden Ely	3 – 2
182 Brenden Poff	3 – 2
152 Chris Davis	1 – 0

This coming Wednesday January 11th the Indians will host their Suburban One League rivals the Tigers of Harry S Truman. North is 3 - 0 in the league and is on the hunt for their first league title in a long time. Come out and cheer on the Council Rock North wrestling team. They need your support and you're sure to see some great high school wrestling.
